SCHEEPER CAUGHT BY FRENCH'S FORCE

HE HAS BEEN ACTIVE IN CAPE COLONY

Kitchener's Message Does Not State Whether His Commando Was Captured—Totter Executed Yesterday

(Associated Press.)

London, Oct. 12.—Lord Kitchener reports to the war office from Pretoria, under today's date, that General French's column has captured Commandant Scheeper.

Lord Kitchener does not state whether Scheeper's commando, which has been active in Cape Colony, was captured or not. The British have been in pursuit for a couple of weeks. Scheeper himself was so ill that he was obliged to travel in a buggy.

Rebels Executed.

Middleburg, Cape Colony, Oct. 12.—Two young farmers, who had twice joined the Boers, have been hanged at Vryburg.

The death sentences of a number of other condemned men have been commuted to penal servitude.

BRITISH COLUMBIA FISH COMMISSIONER.

JOHN P. BARCOCK.

Commandant-Lotter, the Cape rebel whose commando, consisting almost wholly of rebels, was captured south of Petersburg in September, and who was sentenced to death, was executed yesterday morning.

Commandant Lotter, who was executed yesterday, had been tried and found guilty on eight counts, including sedition, the murder of colored unarmed soldiers, the murder of troops in action, the blowing up of railroads and the cowardly killing of British subjects and Europeans. Lotter pleaded that he was a citizen of the Orange-Free State, but this was disproved.

An Official's Opinion.

London, Oct. 12.—Public attention is centered on General Buller's extraordinary exhibition, while society is gossiping about the remarkable action of another general. This one is a Knight Commander of the Bath, holding a high command in South Africa. He is over sixty years of age, has been a widower for two years, and has engaged himself by letter to marry a woman of fifty whom he has not seen for twenty years. The bride-elect, who is an Irish woman, is preparing to go out to South Africa.

For General Buller, he seems to have forever shattered every vestige of his reputation. A representative of the Associated Press learns that previous to General Buller's speech of Thursday he had received several plain hints from the war office, expressing the hope that he would not accept invitations to make speeches. His appointment to the command of an army corps was made in a spirit of generosity. It was thought that General Buller could not do much harm in the two years remaining before his retirement.

Failure to appoint him would have signified a public disgrace which the war office was not willing to inflict on him, believing that Gen. Buller had done the best his ability allowed.

One of the highest officials connected with the administration of the army said to a representative of the Associated Press: "The utilitarian spirit of the age has taken away those sincere such as a governor of Tilbury and Commander-in-Chief of Berwick, with which a hundred years ago Gen. Buller might be shelved and at the same time rewarded. We had no alternative but to reward Gen. Buller's long and conscientious period of service by kicking him out or giving him a command which his rank demands. Of the two evils we chose what we thought was the least. Our justification is perhaps somewhat sentimental."

But no army can be run without a certain amount of sentiment. As for the public dissatisfaction with our progress in South Africa I fear that Lord Roberts and other optimistic prophets are unintentionally more to blame than anyone else. No one got up and said the Boer war was over or that it would be over in a foolishly short space of time. It lasted nearly four years and the British public took it as a matter of course. The South African war has probably not another two years to run, developing like the Boer war, to a subaltern's campaign. Confined local disturbances are being put down by small garrisons. To supervise such work we know of no one better than Lord Kitchener. His chief difficulty, which seems to have missed the attention of the public, is that having noncombatant natives populating the war area, he is prohibited from destroying supplies to any degree of military thoroughness. If we could concentrate or deport the natives, I think an effective devastation would quickly end the campaign."

INVESTIGATING THE MINERS' CHARGES

ALLEGED VIOLATION OF ALIEN LABOR LAW

Officer Who Has Been Making Inquiries at Rossland Requested to Obtain Further Information.

(Special to the Times.)

Ottawa, Oct. 12.—The department of labor has received a report from Mr. Williams, department officer, sent to Rossland to investigate the alleged violation of the alien labor law in the mining country. The information, however, is not sufficiently complete, and Mr. Williams has been instructed to forward additional particulars. When this information is received all particulars will be referred to the minister of labor and probably then to the government.

The question at issue concerns the deportation of aliens. If it can be proved by the labor unions that the foreign miners now at work were brought into Canada under the same circumstances as those miners respecting whom convictions have already been made, then deportation can be proceeded with.

The Governor-General.

The secretary of state was asked today as to the cable from London that Lord Minto was to retire because of friction with the cabinet. Hon. R. W. Scott replied that the first he saw of it was what appeared in the press.

CUP SUGGESTION.

Proposal That Lipton Should Challenge With Shamrock I.

(Associated Press.)

New York, Oct. 12.—As the New York Yacht Club has declined to change the deed of gift so as to allow Shamrock II, to contest again for the cup before two years have elapsed from the date of her defeat, a suggestion has been made to Sir Thomas Lipton to challenge with Shamrock I. for next year, says the Tribune.

The two years which must elapse after the defeat of one boat before she can sail again for the cup will expire in favor of the first Shamrock on October 20th, and the suggestion is that if the first Shamrock has, as reported, received improvements she greatly needed when she entered her races with Columbia in 1892, she should be in good condition to give Columbia a good run for the trophy in 1902.

CHARMER'S NARROW ESCAPE.

Steamer Mainlander Reversed Just in Time to Avoid a Collision.

(Special to the Times.)

Vancouver, Oct. 12.—W. H. Quinn, owner of the Mainlander, the Merchant's Exchange and other houses here, is sick with erysipelas and is not expected to recover. His sickness is due to being struck on the head with a baseball a year ago.

Steamer Mainlander came near running down the Charmer this morning in a fog in the harbor. The steamer was reversed just in time to save her cutting into the broadside of the Charmer.

J. G. Woodworth, of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, is here arranging with the Canadian Pacific as to what northern boats will be taken off for the winter.

CANADIAN CHALLENGE.

(Associated Press.)

ELEVEN THOUSAND TROOPS PARADED

REVIEWED BY DUKE AT TORONTO YESTERDAY

South African Veterans Presented With Medals—Interesting News Notes From Eastern Canada.

Toronto, Oct. 11.—The Royal review to-day passed off brilliantly. There were not less than 50,000 people actively witnessing, or endeavoring to witness, the brilliant spectacle presented. There were 11,000 troops on the field.

The Duke first rode around the exhibition grounds with his staff, reviewing the various corps, and then distributed South African medals to over 500 veterans, also planting on Major Cockburn's Victoria Cross earned in South Africa. The sword of honor presented to Major Cockburn on behalf of the citizens of Toronto was handed to him by the Duke with congratulations. The Duke, before leaving the grounds, expressed to Gen. O'Grady his deep admiration of the splendid turnout and steadiness of the men.

The Royal party, after luncheon, proceeded to the University, the Duke reviewing the firemen on the way. At the University a very distinguished crowd had gathered to witness the conferring of a degree on the Duke. Chancellor Meredith presided. The Duke, accepting the degree, made a laudatory reference to the fact that his Royal father, 42 years ago, had been made an undergraduate, being too young when here to become a graduate, and had remained a freshman ever since.

Steamer Grounded.

Quebec, Oct. 11.—The Donaldson liner Tritonia, from Montreal for Glasgow, arrived here this morning after going aground off St. Antoine. The divers found she had sustained a rip in her keel plates extending 10 feet. Her cargo is being discharged from the hold. At the time of the accident the depth of water in the river was 26 feet 7 inches, the ship's draught being only 23 feet.

Singular Death.

Windsor, Oct. 11.—Peter Seguin, of Elmley, carried a small bottle of carbolic acid and a plug of tobacco in his pocket. The bottle broke and the tobacco absorbed the acid. Despite the tobacco's peculiar flavor, Seguin chewed it two days. As a result his throat swelled up and the flesh became almost black. An abscess formed on his lungs; broke yesterday and death resulted.

Suing Hospital.

Montreal, Oct. 11.—Alfred Lefebvre is suing the Royal Victoria Hospital for $1,000 damages caused by the loss of a foot. Lefebvre was a coal cart driver and had his foot crushed by a coal cart partially amputated it, but gangrene set in and the remainder had to come off. Lefebvre alleges that amputation was unnecessary.

For Insurance Policy.

Greenshields, Greenshields & Hennecker have taken out an action against the Temperance and General Life Assurance Company for the amount of a policy on the life of the late Major "Gat" Howard, killed in South Africa. The action is on behalf of W. H. Elly, attorney-at-law of Hartford, Conn., sole testamentary executor of the late Major "Gat" Howard. The company have refused to pay the amount called for by the policy because Major Howard met his death at war.

Fatally Injured.

Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 11.—Prof. William Hand, sr., member of the famous fireworks firm, was fatally injured by an explosion in his factory this morning. He was removed to the hospital and died in a short time.

MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE.

Question Discussed at Yesterday's Session of Episcopal Convention.

San Francisco, Oct. 11.—The question of marriage and divorce was before both houses of the triennial convention of the Episcopal church of America today. The bishops adopted a substitute for the proposed canon 37, providing for the discipline of persons marrying again after being divorced. The principal objection made by the substitute is the provision that such person may receive the sacrament on the written consent of the bishop. The house of deputies began the eagerly-waited debate on section 4 of the revised canon 36, which virtually prohibits the remarriage in the church

HERB OF GRACE.

One of the most recent publications of MacMillan Co. is the "Herb of Grace," the author of which is Rosa Neuchette Cary, with whom all who interest themselves in modern literature are acquainted as the author of "Selie's Memories," "Rose With a Difference," and many other no less successful books. Her latest is a repetition of the former, both in style and the interesting nature of the plot of the story. "Herb of Grace," although not one of the blood curdling books which are so common at present, claims the attention of the reader from the beginning. The author introduces as the hero a character intellectual, unselfish, somewhat egotistical and philosophical. The character mentioned above is given the name of Malcolm Herick. Malcolm meets his lady love when another gentleman is paying her attentions, who having gained a start obtains her consent to be his wife. Malcolm at this juncture is described with the versatile pen of the author as being, although inwardly heart-broken, outwardly calm, self sustained, and even congratulatory towards the happy couple. The accepted, however, after enjoying his new-found happiness for some time, becomes suddenly ill, having been stricken with disease of the lungs, and dies. Elizabeth is heart-broken. The story then skips about three years, when Malcolm again meets Elizabeth, not having seen her since the death of her betrothed. Finally Elizabeth becomes the promised wife of Malcolm. Elizabeth is portrayed as being a character singularly simple, although not exactly beautiful, carrying with her a charming broadness of manner and having an exceedingly lovable nature.

Successful and Pleasing Work When the Diamond Dyes Are Used.

Do You Wish to See the DIAMOND DYE MAT AND RUG PATTERNS?

The mothers, wives and daughters of Canada who buy fully eighty-five per cent. of all goods consumed in the home, should be extremely careful when they purchase dyes for home dyeing. Some dealers for the sake of large profits are selling poor imitations of the Diamond Dyes, under other names, assuring their customers they are as good as the genuine Diamond Dyes. This low form of deception should be watched by all. In every case insist upon getting the genuine Diamond Dyes; the name appears on each package. If you would like to see the new designs for mats and floor rugs, send your address to The Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, Montreal, and they will send you free by mail sheets of the "Diamond Dye Mat and Rug Patterns."

THE ROYAL VISIT—THE DUKE ENTERING HIS CARRIAGE.

STONE IN KIDNEYS

The Terrible Affliction of a Well Known Citizen of Ottawa.

Mr. Sam Cassidy Tells the Story of His Awful Experience, and Explains How He Was Extricated From His Dangerous Predicament.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 11.—(Special).—For years Mr. S. A. Cassidy has been a martyr. The pain he has endured cannot be described in words. Today he is well.

So many people have been asking him questions that he decided to satisfy everybody by publishing in the Ottawa Citizen a letter giving the full particulars of his cure.

The letter reads as follows: "I want you to publish for the benefit of others who are suffering as I have suffered about how I was cured of Stone in the Kidneys."

"My friends all know that I have been a martyr to this disease for years. They know that besides consulting the best physicians in the city, and trying every kind of remedy I could think of, I was unable to get better. Some time ago, a friend of mine told me that Dodd's Kidney Pills would cure me. As a last resort I tried them and they have cured me."

"This is the first year in a great many years that I have not been confined to my bed with the disease."

"I could not imagine more severe suffering than one endures who is afflicted with Stone in the Kidney, and I feel the greatest gratitude to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

"Anyone who has suffered need suffer no more, for Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure them."

"It is impossible to estimate the impression this wonderful cure and its miracle cure has made on the people here. Men and women are asking, 'If Dodd's Kidney Pills can cure such apparently incurable cases, what will they not cure.' It is a revelation to even the physicians."

MINERS' NARROW ESCAPE.

Fairmont, W. Va., Oct. 11.—At 5 o'clock this morning there was an explosion of gas in the Fairmont Coal Company's New England mines, a mile and a half south of this city. The gas ignited from a shot fired by one of the miners, the loose coal at once taking fire and a big blaze resulted and filled the mine with smoke at a point where it prevented the exit of the miners for a time. The miners were panned in for about four hours, and 17 looked for a while as if there would be fatalities. The flames were finally shut off by the putting up of brattice and the men all came out unhurt.

INTERESTING LECTURE.

Miss Baskerville, a Missionary of India, Gave Talk on Education.

In the Calvary Baptist church yesterday afternoon Miss Baskerville, who is returning to her work in India, gave an informal talk on mission work. On request of Miss Baskerville the audience asked questions, instead of a lecture being given, which were answered very satisfactorily. Education in India was taken up, and Miss Baskerville stated that 300,000 men have obtained the B. A. degree, while those graduating from the colleges numbered 200,000. The old belief in Hindostan, that the women should not be educated, is dying out. This, Miss Baskerville attributed to the spread of Christianity. There are schools for girls, the teachers being natives. English teachers, however, are employed in the mission schools. There are also inspectors employed to visit the different schools. The government has established during the past year schools for the pariah children. Miss Baskerville said, in fact, that the general education of the country was making wonderful strides, especially in the lower classes, from whence most of the converts came.

Miss Baskerville's lecture was much appreciated.

Fainting Spells

Are peculiar to women. Men rarely faint. Many women are liable to what they term "fainting spells," and this liability is always most marked at the monthly period. This alone is sufficient to connect the "fainting spell" with a deranged or diseased condition of the womanly organs.

The use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures irregularity, heals inflammation and ulceration, and stops the drains which weaken the body. It builds up the nervous system, increases the fluid powers, and will remove the common causes of faintness in women.

There is no alcohol in "Favorite Prescription"; neither does it contain opium, cocaine, nor any other narcotic.

"It gives me much pleasure," writes Miss Ella Sapp, of Jamaica, Guilford Co., N.C., "to thank Dr. Pierce for the great good received from the use of his 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I had suffered for three years or more at monthly periods. It seemed as though I would die with pain in my back and stomach. I could not stand on my feet without fainting; had given up all hope of ever being cured, when one of my friends insisted upon my trying Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. With but little faith I tried it, and before I had taken half a bottle I felt better, had better appetite and slept better. Now I have taken two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and am one of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and am happy to say I am entirely cured, and all done in two months' time, when all other medicines had failed to do any good."

A Boycott of the Road Openly Advocated in Return for Its Treatment of This City.

The quarterly meeting of the Victoria (British Columbia) Board of Trade was held yesterday afternoon. The principal business to be discussed, it was expected, would be the proposed change in the board's name, but it transpired that the relations between this city and the C. P. R. formed the principal theme. Geo. McL. Brown, executive agent of the C. P. R., was present to defend his road, and he heard some plain talk from the merchants. A. C. McCandless, formerly suggesting a boycott of the C. P. R. in return for their treatment of the city.

There were present: President McCandless, Secretary Elworthy, Lugin, Mitchell, Andrews, Geo. McL. Brown, Mara, Seabrook, Patterson, McCandless, Robertson, Gossell, Crooks, Christie, Earle, Erskine, Johnson and Prior.

The president spoke as follows:

Since the last regular meeting the council of the board has had some communications with the C. P. R. Co. regarding the Northern service and the Victoria-Vancouver steamer service. On 25th September a letter was sent to the Canadian Pacific Navigation Co. requesting that passengers from the North by the steamer Hattie be brought on to Victoria by that steamer. The board not having received an acknowledgment to that communication on Tuesday last, the council ordered that another letter be sent to the company with a request that the matter be attended to without delay.

In August a letter was sent to Sir Thomas G. Shaughnessy asking what steps are being taken for improving the Victoria-Vancouver steamer service. Sir Thomas replied that this matter would be disposed of by the Canadian Pacific shareholders' meeting on the 2nd of this month. The council ordered a telegram of inquiry as to how matters now stand, and Sir Thomas replied:

"Shareholders authorize the construction of one additional boat for the Victoria-Vancouver route. Captain Troup is now attending to the matter."

The following letter was read by the secretary:

F. Elworthy, Esq., Secretary British Columbia Board of Trade, Victoria, B. C.: Dear Sir:—In the absence of Captain Troup your communication of the 5th inst. is referred to me.

At the commencement of the season it was definitely stated, and I imagine clearly understood, that the steamer Hattie, which was refitted at great expense, should make Victoria her home port, and that the steamer Hattie should make Vancouver, the object, of course, being to make the best possible service from both ports. The unfortunate loss of the Hattie necessitated the placing of the Amur on the Victoria run. This steamer met with a serious accident and is now in dock here, being repaired by Victoria workmen.

That the Victoria passengers met with any delay in reaching Victoria was owing to the fact that the Hattie put into Juanua for the remains of those drowned on the Hattie, and in consequence was not late in reaching Vancouver to connect with the Hattie. The steamer could not have come direct to Victoria, as she was out of coal.

Respecting the movements of the Hattie for the balance of the season, I may say it is not expected that she will make but one more trip, the service for the winter season being filled by steamers Danube and Amur, both of which leave Victoria as the home port.

Yours faithfully,
F. W. VINCENT,
Secretary.

Geo. McL. Brown said the Hattie cleared for Vancouver, she being a Vancouver boat and the Hattie a Victoria boat. On her reaching Vancouver a request was presented, asking that she go to Victoria. Authority was given the captain to go to Victoria, and he prepared to do so, but found that he had not sufficient time to reach Victoria before the Hattie.

Landley Crease then offered his resolution, suggesting a change in the name of the board from "B. C." to "Victoria, B. C." Board of Trade.

Mr. Crease said there was a sentimental reason for the rejection of the old name. But this reason was not a practical one. Another objection was that the suggested change came from outsiders, and this was resented.

The name had been a proper and good one as long as this was the centre of the trade of the province. Now Mainland points such as the centres of action, and trade and the applicability of the name had passed away. Any expression of the board, came not from Victoria, but from the B. C. board, and they thus lost their individuality. It was in a sense a false name, only eleven of the he accepted with all due humility the reprimand which had been administered, but he doubted its good taste. The people of Victoria asked for a ferry service, and they did not get it. If the C. P. R. were merely a company serving Vancouver and Victoria he could understand some of the remarks made. But the C. P. R. was a national railway, and he could not see why they could not lose a few dollars in developing the trade of a certain district.

Mr. Brown observed that it cost the C. P. R. more to forward by the ferry than by the former system.

E. M. Johnson also brought up the matter of mails. Why could not the mail train arrive at Victoria at 8 in the morning and leave at 6 in the evening. This would put the Victorian on the same basis as the Vancouverite, but this was not done.

Mr. Earle alluded to the late mails from Vancouver, so that Victoria's mails were a day late. If the connection could members residing outside the city. The change in name would localize the efforts of the board. He favored retaining the letters "B. C." after the word "Victoria," so that the city might not be confounded with other Victories.

J. J. Shaughnessy said the board did not represent British Columbia. It represented Victoria, and the present name was therefore a misnomer. Other boards represented the mining districts. He represented the mining districts. He represented the mining districts. He represented the mining districts.

The resolution carried unanimously. Reverting to the vexed question of the city and the C. P. R. Mr. McCandless said that Mr. Brown had stated that the reason the Hattie did not come here was because she was out of coal. If that was the reason it seemed to him they were sailing very close, if they had just enough to bring them to Vancouver. Boats usually had enough to carry them for half a day longer than the time expected to be consumed on the voyage.

D. R. Ker said when in the East he called on Sir Thomas Shaughnessy and asked if it was the intention of the company to live up to their promises and to give a good boat for the Vancouver-Victoria service. He (Sir Thomas) assured him that they did, and described to him the kind of boat they intended providing. He travelled on the kind of boat he mentioned as the kind they intended providing, and she was all right.

Mr. Earle drew the attention of Mr. Brown to the unsatisfactory character of the service between this city and the Mainland. Sometimes three or four days were consumed in getting goods from Victoria on to the main line at Vancouver. The greatest uncertainty existed in regard to the matter. If they could form them that it lay with the E. & N. Railway Company. He instanced a shipment made on Wednesday from Vancouver, which was not here yet.

Mr. Shaughnessy confirmed this complaint. He said Mr. Brown would remedy this. He could not be the depository of the fact that their business should be handled in a dilatory manner. He also alluded to the fact that there was a trade with the northern ports of Vancouver Island which now came into Vancouver and for which there was not a proper system of transfer at Vancouver where the Victoria merchants might develop this trade.

He thought a boat might be provided here, and also a better boat for the West Coast.

Mr. Brown said the present system was established because of the ferry agitation. There had been an agitation for two years previously. A schedule had been arranged, and he believed was being lived up to by the E. & N.

An alteration had been made providing for small shipments to go by the Hattie. The agreement had some time to run, and if there was any complaint the board must remember the service was of their making, not the C. P. R.'s.

Mr. Earle—We don't object to the ferry service only to the character of it.

Mr. Brown—If there is any complaint against the E. & N. in that way we will look into it.

Mr. Shaughnessy—The arrangement regarding small shipments on the Hattie has been abrogated owing to a complaint by the E. & N.

Mr. Brown—I will look into that.

Regarding the West Coast service, Mr. Brown said that for $200 a month was being lost there by the C. P. R. It was their intention to improve that service, however, as soon as possible.

Mr. Shaughnessy observed that it was sometimes necessary to operate a boat even at a loss to develop a trade.

not be made under present arrangements why not dispatch those trains from Montreal six hours earlier.

Continuing, Mr. Earle said that when Sir Wm. Van Horn insisted on the C. P. R. running a daylight service, he said the regulation of the hours at which the train would arrive could be easily adjusted.

A. C. McCandless said it was the story, Victoria got the worst of it. As long as Victoria gave the C. P. R. 70 or 80 per cent. of their freight an indifferent service would be all they would get. If the citizens would invite and give the N. P. or the E. & N. the freight for six months they would find the C. P. R. ready to meet them. They were building up Vancouver at the expense of Victoria. He had no objection to the C. P. R. It gave the best service on the continent, and he would rather patronize it than any other, but they were primarily for themselves, and as long as Victorians submitted tamely there would be no improvement.

This concluding the business, the board rose.

ATHLETE'S FAILURE.

Was Not a Success Until He Was Put On the Right Road.

Cecilus X. High, of 1717 Barclay St., Baltimore, Md., now quite a famous runner, has had some interesting experience in regard to proper feeding. His testimony is worth the attention of any athlete, or in fact, of any person who cares for good, sturdy, powerful health. "Up to about 18 months ago I had been in many athletic contests, without much success. I about made up my mind it was time to stop, but a physical director of the Y. M. C. A. of this city advised me to use Grape-Nuts food and Postum Cereal Coffee as principal factors in my diet.

"I accepted the advice and to-day am in possession of perfect health, and a great many medals won in different athletic events. I can now run a race and finish in fine condition, whereas before I started on the right diet I would find myself in a faint at the end of a race.

"Formerly I had more or less nervous trouble and severe headaches. I am glad to say since using Grape-Nuts and Postum Food Coffee I have forgotten what a headache feels like. My heart is in perfect condition, whereas while I was using ordinary coffee it would not stand the heavy strain. This statement is absolutely true, and I do not object to your publishing it, for it may bring back health and strength to some poor being suffering from ill health, caused by the use of improper food.

There is a reason for this; in the first place, ordinary coffee will show its effects somewhere in the nervous system, frequently in weakening of the heart or in stomach troubles, which prevents one from obtaining the strength and value of food. It is, therefore, necessary to quit the use of this drug, and in its place use Postum Cereal Food Coffee and Grape-Nuts Food.

They were both invented by a food expert and are made at the famous pure food factories of the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich. This food and the food drink are both made for a definite purpose, and there are thousands of users throughout the world that can testify, from practical experience, that the theory is borne out by the facts.

A DANGEROUS ENEMY.

The Fatal Results of Bad Digestion and Assimilation.

No matter how sick or tired or debilitated the stomach is, it always puts forth an honest and determined effort to digest the food, no matter how indigestible that food may be.

This effort on the part of the stomach and digestive organs always results in an expenditure of vital force which must be made good in some way, or the general health and vigor of the body will be seriously impaired.

The healthy stomach does its duty without any great or exhaustive effort. It is when it is unable to digest the food properly that the strain is felt on the general health.

We go on day after day unloading on our stomachs those indigestible meals without any regard to the ill effects on our digestive machinery and consequently on our general health.

The faithful stomach needs an opportunity to regain the vigor lost in years of honest effort to digest anything and everything offered.

There is a remedy which will right all these wrongs, which will correct all these mistakes, and that remedy is, DODD'S Dyspepsia Tablets.

Mr. A. E. Beaulieu, of Rockland, Ont.,

suffered severely with Dyspepsia, but found relief and a permanent cure in the use of this great medicine.

Here is what he says: "I can gladly recommend Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets to anyone suffering with Dyspepsia and Indigestion."

"Last winter I was recommended to try Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. I used two boxes and can say that I am completely cured. I can eat any kind of victuals and at any time."

"I would not be without Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets for a good deal as I believe them to be the greatest stomach remedy in the world."

Mr. Beaulieu's case is only one of thousands where Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have relieved men and women from disease and pain and restored them to health and happiness.

AN ATTRACTIVE PROPOSITION.

Six choice copyrighted novels at about the usual price of one may fairly be considered a great proposition. And these same works are not so-called "small books" either. There's nothing little about them except price. They are in fine cloth binding, too, so that you'll like to have them lying about in library or lounging room for your friends to look at. Every one of the writers of these attractive books is well known in the realm of present-day fiction. Among them are such names as Paul Leicester Ford, Cable, Stockton and Amelia E. Barr, each represented by a popular and hitherto expensive book. The distribution is under the auspices of the International Association of Newspapers and Authors. Particulars may be learned from a large announcement in this issue of the Times and from subsequent advertisements. The first consignment of books is expected to arrive next week.

THE C. P. R. AND VICTORIA.

The discussion at the meeting of the Board of Trade yesterday proves that the merchants of the city think it their duty to watch the operations of the C. P. R. with a jealous eye. We were delivered into its hands almost completely when it acquired the C. P. N. steamers, and it is a matter for congratulation that there are members of the board who are not afraid to stand up manfully on occasion and gave expression to the thoughts that are in the minds of nine-tenths of the people of Victoria. It is hard to understand, we admit, why any corporation should allow the impression to go abroad in a community with which it has intimate business relations—relations which are reported on good authority to be most profitable—that there would be little mourning if there were good pasture on the streets of Victoria. Like all earthly institutions, the C. P. R. is managed by men who have been endowed with preferences and prejudices. Many things may be done by officials of which the directors have no cognizance. It is altogether probable, however, that a common understanding has existed from the beginning as to the building up of Vancouver, the terminal point on the Pacific, by every possible means and regardless of the private interests which might suffer in the carrying out of this object. No blame can be attached to proprietors or employees on account of this. They have probably all invested in property in the city where they live, and the more important the place becomes the more the value of their possessions will be enhanced. All we can do in Victoria is combat their schemes to the utmost of our ability. If the management of the road are not aware of this, it is our duty to make them so.

they refuse redress there are other lines of transportation to which we can turn. The stretch of water which in one sense shuts us off from connection with the Mainland, on another makes us independent of any one transportation company. It will not do to say, with our esteemed fellow-citizen, Mr. D. R. Kerr—who no doubt has his own reason for the position he takes—that our grievances are all imaginary. The suspicions that were aroused when the Abyssinia, the

THE IRON HAND.

The war in South Africa has up to the present been conducted by the British in such a manner as to give the impression that the purpose in view was rather to avoid giving offence to a censorious world than to conquer the Boers. The result has been the prolongation of the agony, greater cost in life and treasure to both sides, while the censure and condemnation will be just as severe as if work of pacification has been dragged out and promised to go on interminably. The agency were justified in hoping, as long as such tactics were allowed to continue, with men permitted to profess peace one moment and turn round and shoot the officers whose hospitality they had been enjoying the next, that the British would eventually become weary of the struggle and grant terms which would have left the Boers free to resume their ambitious schemes as soon as Parthia and the Batavia—the former of which is at the bottom of the sea and the latter are now known as the Victoria and Tacoma—were refused permission to land in the "mud hole" known as the harbor of Victoria, have been confined by many occurrences of a later date. The ships mentioned have since they passed beyond the control of the C. P. R. called regularly, with generally ten feet or more of water between their bottoms and that of the harbor. Even the precious Empresses have declined to put in an appearance when their navigators were in a reckless mood, and no harm has ever befallen them. We cannot take the position that the company, or its officials have done a wrong thing in striving to have it appear that their city is the one deep water port on the Canadian Pacific Coast, but as Victorians we have a right the campaign had been conducted with all the rigor characteristic of a "Bismarck." Bluff John Bull has become very sensitive to foreign public opinion, especially the form of public opinion manufactured by agitators on this continent. No doubt, now that the gloves have been taken off, the stern measures which have been adopted will be greeted with a howl of execration by peace at any price people at home and by those abroad who who condemn every British act on principle. Recent developments have revealed in a strong light the treachery of some of those who have professed repentance and threw themselves on the generosity of the British. Emboldened by the leniency with which they actions were regarded, and no doubt laughing in derision at the ease with which they fooled their they had recovered from the effects of their ill-advised actions. In ten years more it would have been up to the British again to get out or fight. The iron hand is merciful in war. It may seem a hard saying, but there is reason to believe there would have been less mourning in the British Empire if it had been firmly closed earlier in the South African campaign.

The British Columbia Board of Trade has discarded its misleading name and is now known as the Victoria, B. C. Board of Trade. The change of title will not detract from the influence or dignity of the body in the slightest degree, while it will disarm criticism which may or may not have been levelled at this city with reason. If the board could cast behind it some of its peculiar ideas to resent their action and to correct the false impression they have been so diligent in spreading abroad. If it does not pay the company to dock their steamers here, why cannot they say so candidly and not advance reasons other than the true ones for their actions? In the light of the experience of many years have not the people of Victoria reason for the jealousy with which they watch every move of the C. P. R.? There is only one way to secure fair and just treatment, and that is by men speaking out fearlessly as Mr. McDonald and others did at the Board of Trade meeting yesterday, and letting the company know that Victoria is not dependent upon its good offices for existence.

Philadelphia has resolutely removed from herself the reproach of being a slow city. It is true she has been building a city hall for twenty years, and it is not half finished yet; but she has made amends by plying herself ahead of New York in corruption, while certain of her citizens have shown themselves equal to Turks and Bulgarians by abducting a woman and holding her for a ransom. The police were too fast even for these swift young men, and they are now in jail.

captors, young Boers, and also old ones, too, have laid down their arms, taken the oath of allegiance or neutrality over and over again and shouldered their weapons as soon as the backs of their captors were turned, using the information they had gained while in the British camps without scruple or compunction. It is said all is fair in war. It is not true. There is a treachery that is not to be condoned under any circumstances, and the enemy in South Africa have been repeatedly guilty of it. Any measures which do not do violence to the conscience of the nation are warranted in order to bring such a state of affairs to an end. There have been revelations which ought to disarm criticism, such as the shooting of British wounded in cold blood and the unearthing of conspiracies among professedly loyal prisoners to supply their friends with information and more substantial help. All things considered, with thousands of men laying down their rifles and taking them up again when it suited their convenience, a large part of the professedly loyal colonists supplying information, ammunition and supplies to the burghers, a perfect intelligence bureau in Great Britain and abundance of treasure in the hands of Kruger in Holland, it is no wonder the

it would be of much more value to the city. The change of name appears to have had a good effect already. When members get up and tell certain corporations whose mercy we are supposed to be at, such palpable truths, a change must surely have come over the spirit as well as the name of the board.

If Victoria intends to maintain her position as a distributing point, it seems imperative that a ferry shall be maintained between the Island and the Mainland in order that goods may be handled in car load lots. It seems as if the purpose of those who are maintaining the ferry at the present time is to convince the people that the idea is visionary and the scheme impracticable. Yet similar facilities of transportation are provided in places where the conditions are not as favorable as between Vancouver Island and the Mainland. Has the impression that the project the present system was inaugurated to head off has collapsed anything to do with this position of affairs?

ANOTHER FLAW.

Imperfect Municipal Enactments Are Being Discovered One By One.

One by one the imperfections of some of the municipal enactments are being discovered. It was only a short time ago when it was found that the by-laws could not govern a case of drunkenness unless the offender was extremely disorderly. Ald. Stewart's clause, however, fills in the vacuum and will give the police an opportunity to exercise their duties when they observe a man in individual trying to negotiate a troublesome sidewalk. A short time ago Magistrate Hall declared the sub-section of by-law 344, under which a charge was laid against Thos. Alexander for keeping more than six cows within the city limits, ultra vires, as it was contrary to section 64 of the Municipal Clauses Act.

The latest section with a fatal flaw in it is section 29 of the streets by-law, which says that "between the hours of 3 a.m. and 9 a.m. no person shall, without permission from the chief of police, saw, cut, or split cordwood or firewood on any street within the lines or boundaries of that portion of the city of Victoria known as the fire limits, etc., etc." This is hardly consistent with section 64 of the Municipal Clauses Act, which says in effect that notwithstanding any law to the contrary a municipal council shall not have the power to grant any person any particular privilege or immunity or exemption from the ordinary jurisdiction of the corporation.

Yesterday, it is understood, a Chinaman was apprehended by the police while sawing wood on the street within the prohibited hours, and was to give his name. He was taken to the lockup but no charge was made, as it was felt if he pleaded not guilty no conviction could be secured against him under the present by-law. The fine work of the amender appears to be necessary.

THE MORBID PRINCIPLE OF RHEUMATISM IS URIC ACID.

Paine's Celery Compound
DRIVES IT FROM THE BLOOD AND CURES THE DISEASE.

The Wonderful Medicine Does a Marvelous Work For Mr. G. J. McDonald, of Cornwall, Ont.

The ablest pathologists are of opinion that there is a morbid principle in the blood when rheumatism is present. This morbid principle is uric acid, which circulates with the blood and acts upon the joints and muscles, causing the pains and agonies of rheumatism.

Paine's Celery Compound is the only scientific remedy for the complete banishment of every form of rheumatism. If your joints are painful, if the knees, wrists, elbows or ankles are swollen, a few bottles of Paine's Celery Compound will surely remove all your troubles and pains. A 64-page book "Diseases of the Nervous System and How to Cure Them" is sent free to any address by The Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, Montreal. This book furnishes valuable Diet Lists for various diseases.

Mr. McDonald, of the benefit of rheumatic sufferers writes as follows: "After giving your Paine's Celery Compound a thorough testing, I am pleased to say a few words in its favor. For three years I suffered terribly from rheumatism. It seemed to me that I was forced to endure all the agonies and pains that a mortal could possibly experience from the dreadful disease.

"While suffering I tried many of the advertised medicines and also doctors' prescriptions, but never found a cure until I procured a supply of Paine's Celery Compound. It worked like a charm—it seemed to strike at the very root of my trouble. I am now cured; all pains are banished, and in every respect I am a new man.

"I shall always consider it a pleasure and duty to strongly recommend Paine's Celery Compound to all who are afflicted with rheumatism."

NEW FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

The accompanying cut represents the front elevation of the proposed First Congregational church, the plans for which have recently been completed. The edifice will be erected in the northwest corner of Pandora and Blanchard streets, fronting the former thoroughfare. The building will be of stone, 60 feet square, and will include the church, auditorium and Sunday school. By the adjustment of folding door arrangements all the sections of the interior may be thrown into one, making accommodation when necessary for 600 people or more. Ordinarily the church will have a comfortable seating capacity for 250 people. There will be three classrooms in connection with the Sunday school, pastor's vestry and other accessory apartments. There will be a capacious basement, where a ladies' kitchen will be situated.

Originally it was intended to erect the new edifice on Cook street, and property was acquired for the purpose, which is now for sale, owing to the change in the plan. When the church is erected there will be places of worship on three of the corners—the First Congregational, First Presbyterian opposite and the Temple Emmanuel.

SPORTING

WHAT THE P. I. SAYS.
The Seattle P. I. has the following very logical editorial about the recent yachting negotiations:
"There were not a few people in the United States who hoped that Shamrock II. might carry off the cup, simply to get it away from the control of the New York Yacht Club. That organization deserves great credit for its defence of the cup, for the readiness with which the members of it came forward whenever a challenger appears, and spare neither time nor money chance; and it should be equally a matter of course that the yachting world on this side of the water should wish to give her one.

"Every sportsman would say that if, next year, any other challenger appears, he should have the first right to try for the cup. But if there is no other, then it all means that there be a race against the boat that did so nobly this season and is already here, ready to try conclusions with us again. To which the New York Yacht Club replies by drawing the deed of gift, that is trotted out on all possible occasions, and scounders its provisions with an eagle eye and a legal mind. It contains a clause to the effect that no vessel which has once been defeated can be selected by any club until after a contest with some other vessel has intervened, or until the expiration of two years from the time of its former defeat. All of which would be satisfactory and final in any court in Christendom, but is not at all pleasing to the lovers of sport.

The record was previously held by himself, having been made on the Toledo track one year ago. It was 2:06. He trotted this afternoon for the benefit of the charitable institutions of the city, and more than 4,000 people gathered to see him. This is the home of George Keckham, the owner, trainer and driver, and last spring, before starting on the circuit, Mr. Keckham, in a letter to Mayor Jones, announced that he would give an exhibition trot on the Toledo track for the benefit of all of the Toledo charitable institutions. The offer was at once accepted. The result is that they will now receive about $18,000.

"YON YONSON."
The Swedish Play Presented Here Again Last Night.
There was a fair attendance at the Victoria theatre last evening to witness the presentation of the Swedish dialect play, "Yon Yonson." Yon has always been a favorite here, but he has been seen so frequently that the play does not draw the crowd which it did on its first presentation.
A new "Yon" has the boards this season, Kuntze Erickson, a strapping blonde Swede. He certainly looks the part to perfection. Taken generally he falls short of Donaldson, who played the title role here on the last visit to Victoria, but he certainly is possessed of great versatility. During the third act he introduces a number of musical specialties which delights the audience.
Erickson's support is indifferent.

OFFICIAL THANKS.
Executive at Washington Acknowledge Local Sympathy With American People.
His Worship the Mayor has received the following self-explanatory letter:
Victoria, B. C., Oct. 11, 1901.
His Worship Mayor Hayward, Victoria, B. C.:
Sir:—I had the honor to transmit, in a dispatch to the department of state of the United States, giving an account of the memorial services held in this city on the date of the funeral of our late beloved President McKinley, a copy of your eloquent and sympathetic proclamation paying a fitting tribute to our murdered chief executive, and requesting that places of business be closed during the hour of said memorial service.
I have today received a dispatch from the secretary of state acknowledging receipt of same, and directing me to make this official recognition of the kindly sentiments expressed, its grateful recognition of the abilities and virtues of the chief magistrate so universally mourned, and to state that it was highly appreciated.
Also to especially thank His Worship the Mayor and Honorable Aldermen of Victoria for their presence at the memorial services, thus giving official expression of the brotherliness and common bond of feeling between the citizens of Victoria and the United States.
ABRAHAM E. SMITH,
United States Consul.

EXPLANATION WANTED.

To the Editor:—In Mr. Dunsen's peculiar and undignified interview which he accorded to his new organ at Lady Smith he explained that he had not called Mr. Heineken into his ministry because of that gentleman's opposition to his policy last session. In your issue of Thursday you say: "On the defeat of Mr. Brown the senior member for Victoria was sent for again and might have been administering a department to-day if he had been so minded." The two statements do not fit. One or the other is incorrect. Either Mr. Dunsen crammed his interviewer or you have been misinformed. There is a tooth out of the cog and the machine wobbles badly. It is known that after the Western election Mr. Dunsen was reduced to a condition of panic and thought of resigning off-hand. It is even asserted that he wrote out his resignation, and was only prevented from sending it in by the frantic appeals of his leg-pullers, who knew that if he went out their occupation would be gone. For several days he was in a state of mind bordering on despair, and doubtless forgets much that he said and did.
The two diverse statements puzzle the public very much, and an explanation is certainly necessary.
QUID PRO QUO.

THE ROYAL VISIT—YATES STREET DECORATIONS.

In providing a yacht that will uphold America's claim. At the same time, it has made the sportsmen of the country very weary by its narrowness and its pettifogging spirit. Most of the discussions that have arisen between it and any other party whatever have resembled the hair-splitting of counsel in a hard-fought legal battle rather than the free and hearty spirit that befits gentlemen and lovers of sport.

"Exactly the same methods that were found so objectionable when applied to Mr. Lawson, inadmissible as he himself proved to be, are now exhibited toward Sir Thomas Lipton, who has shown himself everything that the American people respect and admire. (Sir Thomas has fitted out two yachts and sent them over here to contest for the cup. The total cost of this to him has been probably over a million dollars. Shamrock II. is a magnificent racing machine, and in the deciding race was beaten only on time allowance, by less than three-quarters of a minute, having crossed the line two seconds ahead of her rival. It is natural enough that her owner should wish her to have another

"We do not, or ought not, to care to hold the cup by a legal interpretation, any more than to win it by a lawsuit instead of a yacht race. While the so-called deed of gift undoubtedly places this limitation upon its challengers, all the world knows that the possessors of the cup have the right to waive such condition if they please. They cannot be compelled to; they would be subject to no criticism, but to the heartiest praise, if they did so. They themselves sailed and won the race this year with the same boat that won it last year. It is a poor spirit that strangles upon a technicality among gentlemen, and uses a legal right to spoil sport. Sir Thomas Lipton has proved himself so heartily worthy of the most generous treatment that Americans will read the answer made to his proposition by the New York Yacht Club with no little disappointment and disgust."

ATHLETICS.
PROPOSED AMALGAMATION.
The Brockton Point Amateur Athletic Association has decided to send a communication to each club in Vancouver that it is the wish of the association to carry on all amateur sports in the city under the control of one governing body, and that each club send a delegate to meet the Brockton Point Association to discuss matters on the 21st of November at the Hotel Vancouver. Mr. Hamersley's plan of operation will likely be accepted. It advocates that each club disband and join the Brockton Point Association, each line of sport electing its own officers; all matches to be played at Brockton Point, and the gate money to be distributed to each team according to its needs.

ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL.
GAME THIS AFTERNOON.
The Colonials and a team from the Navy are playing at Beacon Hill this afternoon, the former being represented by the following: Goal, C. Marshall; backs, A. Netherby, S. Shanks; half-backs, J. Hart, H. Gardier, J. Matthews; forwards, J. Lawson, W. Whisby (capt.), G. Wilson (centre), R. Fell and C. Berkeley.

LACROSSE.
ONLY ONE.
Montreal, Oct. 11.—There will be but one match between the Vancouver Y. M. C. A. team and the Shamrocks for the Varsity cup. The Shamrocks positively refuse to play another game, and the challenges have been obliged to accept this.

COAL MINE DISASTERS.
To the Editor:—Twice within a year have the philanthropic people of Victoria been called upon to subscribe to funds for the relief of widows and orphans of men that have perished in coal mine disasters. Why is there no system of insurance by means of which all the miners would be able to protect their wives and children from the poverty and privation which now follows the loss of the breadwinner? Surely some fund should be available, the nucleus of which might very well be provided by the mine-owners, to lessen the hardships of women and children in such cases.

BAD COUGH CURED

It is absolutely necessary in treating lung trouble to get to the seat of the trouble. Generally speaking, lung trouble of any kind, if it hangs on is due to system weakness.

Put the system right—make the body healthy and you will get rid of the disease. Powley's Liquefied Ozone makes the system healthy; forms healthy flesh and gives you an enjoyment of the food you eat. But more than that its antiseptic effect destroys the germs of disease. Mme. Cherrier suffered for years from a most obstinate cough and bronchitis. This is her story:

THE OZONE COMPANY, LTD., TORONTO, ONT.
Gentlemen: I have suffered for the past four years with Bronchitis; sometimes very bad. I could not sleep at nights and my cough was very severe. I tried many remedies, but to no effect, when about the 1st of June, I procured a bottle of "Powley's Liquefied Ozone," and from the first I began to get relief. When I had taken nearly three bottles my cough was entirely cured and I was able to sleep all night. I can say I am now completely cured and feel like a new person.

I take pleasure in recommending your "Ozone" to all who suffer from Bronchitis as I did. (Signed) MRS. RICHARD CHERRIER, DANGERS TO NAVIGATION.

The hydrographic office, Port Townsend, reports that the beacon off Grassy point has been moved to the southward and eastward and is now situated 8.45 degrees 30 minutes E. (E. 8.5 mag), 1,000 yards from the northern extremity of Grassy point.

Information has been received of the existence of a rocky patch in Discovery passage, 400 yards in extent, running in a northwest and southeast direction, with a least depth of 4 1/4 fathoms over it, from which the centre of Yacutta villittle doubt, for the Thistle, which has recently been added to the service in conjunction with the City of Nanaimo, is the tramp vessel of the Dunsmuir fleet, and it is said can be well spared for the missionary work she has been assigned. Fortunately, trade with the Islands, now that the travel has been stimulated by the many hunters going to and fro, and the result of the harvest, is at its best, and all three steamers are doing a fair share of business. To illustrate, however, the extreme to which the fight has already been carried, it might be stated that the fares to North Saanich on the Thistle have been reduced to 15 cents single or 25 cents return passage; to Salt Spring island, 50 cents single and 75 cents return, and from Nanaimo to all Island ports and North Saanich 50 cents single and 75 cents return. The E. & N. Company further announce that on completion of the new wharf at Sidney the same rates will be put into effect as those applying to North Saanich. The freight rates between

She had a large number of passengers on her down trip but these have long since departed, only a few, including Mr. Robertson, of Kitimat, making the trip through to Victoria. The vessel to-day has been taken up to the Sayward mill to load 20,000 feet of lumber required for building purposes in the North. She sails on Monday evening.

The Canadian Order of Foresters.

Among the many fraternal and sick benefit societies in the Dominion of Canada, the Canadian Order of Foresters stands at the head as regards finances, having the largest surplus per $1,000 of risk of any society doing business in this country. The membership now numbers 43,000, and the surplus in the insurance fund at the end of August last was $1,082,000, and it is increasing at an average of about $12,000 per month. The business of the society is confined to the Dominion of Canada, hence the death rate is very low, being only 4.56 per 1,000 of membership in the year 1900, 4.43 in 1899, 4.88 in 1900, and the average death rate since the organization of the society in 1879 has been only 4.33. The society is adding largely to its membership, new Courts being established in all parts of the Dominion and the old Courts strengthened. Insurance policies are issued for $500, $1,000, $1,500 or $2,000, the latter amount being the largest sum written on any life. The insurance premiums are very low, being as follows, payable monthly in advance:

Between the ages of	On $500	On $1,000	On $1,500	On $2,000
18 to 25	35	50	75	100
25 to 30	40	60	90	120
30 to 35	45	70	105	140
35 to 40	50	80	120	160
40 to 45	55	90	135	180

The sick benefit department, though an optional feature, is very popular among the membership, upwards of 22,000 being enrolled in that department.

The benefits are very liberal, namely, $3,000 per week for the first two weeks of illness, and $5,000 per week for the following ten weeks, altogether $50,000 during any year, besides a funeral benefit of $30,000, considering the low rates charged, which are as follows, payable monthly in advance:

Between 18 and 25 years	25 cents
Between 25 and 30 years	30 cents
Between 30 and 35 years	35 cents
Between 35 and 40 years	40 cents
Between 40 and 45 years	45 cents

All physically and morally qualified males, between the ages of 18 and 45 years, who are not debared on account of occupation, are accepted for membership.

on her return and with 74 passengers, the C.P.N. steamer Danube has arrived from the North. She came down from Vancouver last evening. A large portion of the salmon cargo was landed at Vancouver, where also many of the passengers disembarked. On the trip down from Skagway bad weather was experienced and Capt. McLeod came in for the thanks of all the passengers, expressed in the following address, to which the 74 names were appended:

"We, the undersigned passengers, take great pleasure in testifying to the able and careful management of your ship during the extremely thick and foggy weather prevailing during our south-bound trip; also the courteous treatment of passengers by your subordinate officers and crew. Hoping that in the near future you will command a craft worthy of your ability."

Information comes from the North that Jacques Larois, three months in the Klondike, was recently killed by a cave-in of dirt in a drift on No. 18, Gold Run, belonging to and operated by Chute & Wills. Jacques came from Montreal and was of French-Canadian extraction. He worked for several months on the claim and was supposed to know the ground as well as anyone there. The roof near the face of the drift was seen to be threatening and was watched carefully. The men were afterwards instructed to keep out of dangerous places, but in picking around the thawed dirt gradually attracted the man within the area of danger, and when well under it a large mass of detached dirt fell on him, killing him at once. Jacques was unmarried so far as is known. He was 27 years old, and is the second man killed there this year.

IMPROVED EQUIPMENT.

Appropos of the improvements to the Esquimalt marine railway heretofore referred to, the Vancouver World says: "The B. C. Marine Railway Co., in Esquimalt, has received the contract for effecting repairs to the steel steamer Horda, now lying in Esquimalt harbor. The company has recently installed a complete ship repairing plant, in the shape of heavy punches, shears, drills, furnace, bending frame and blacksmith shop. These tools were purchased from the Wm. Hamilton Mfg. Co., of this city, everything being strictly up-to-date. Wm. Bullen, secretary to the company, is now in Portland, Ore., attending the

STEAMBOAT WARFARE.

An interesting steamboat warfare has been going on for some time between the steamers on the Victoria and Islands route. The Iroquois, which was placed in the run in connection with Victoria & Sidney train about a year ago, and which has since developed an important role, has now to compete against two vessels of the Dunsmuir or E. & N. fleet. Rates have been cut to an almost ridiculous extent. Meanwhile the formers of the Islands are enjoying and profiting by the fruits of cheap transportation, and only hope that the rivalry will continue at least until they have marketed all their produce. That the strong competition between the different companies will last there seems now but Victoria and North Saanich are quoted at the remarkable figures of 25 cents a ton and between Victoria and all Island ports 50 cents.

The steamer Iroquois, of the V. & S., which has always quoted an extremely moderate rate and which has been such a benefit to the people of the Islands, seems to suffer little diminution of patronage because of this rivalry.

HAZELTON WAITING ON PARTY.

Information comes from the North by the steamer Boscowitz, which returned this morning, to the effect that the telegraph construction party, which for some weeks has been employed laying the line to the north of Hazelton, will be brought down the Skeena as soon as the water in the river permits of the steamer Hazelton making the trip down stream. The Hazelton is now on the upper part of the river, where she is held because of the low state of the river, and according to advices received at Simpson the party is

At the meeting of the Grand Lodge, I. O. G. T., of British Columbia, in Vancouver, on Wednesday, the following resolutions were drafted and some notable speeches made thereon:

"Whereas numerous accidents have happened to steamships in all waters and it has been shown conclusively that many of such accidents have been traced to the use of intoxicating drinks by the officers of said vessels; and

"And whereas the presence of open bars of passenger steamers is a source of annoyance and anxiety to many persons who have to travel; and

"Whereas one large transportation company, i. e., the Southern Pacific Railway Company, has, after many years' experience, abolished bars for the sale of intoxicating liquor by their steamships; Be it resolved that this Grand Lodge by the G. C. T. and Grand Secretary respectfully request that the Canadian Pacific Railway, the C. P. N. Company, the E. & N. Railway Company, abolish bars for the sale of intoxicating liquors on their respective steamships.

"The Grand Lodge continues to hold strong views against the prevailing use of intoxicating drinks, as being a source of much existing poverty, crime and social evils;

"1. In view of such conditions arising from the use of intoxicants, we hereby declare ourselves in hearty sympathy with all legislation tending to prohibit the traffic, and strongly express the license system, the history and results of all license laws proving conclusively that it is impossible to successfully regulate a system which so strongly antagonizes the well-being of humanity.

"2. Past history in prohibited action fully justifies the conclusion that until candidates favoring prohibition are elected to office, the present license system will continue.

"Be it therefore resolved that we urge the members of the subordinate lodges to take such action in their respective electoral districts as will tend to that office candidates fully in sympathy with the enactment and proper enforcement of prohibitory laws, irrespective of party affiliation.

"And be it further resolved that the members of the subordinate lodges be urged to put forth every effort possible in securing a proper enforcement of all would mean serious jeopardy to the bridge, attempted to elect the provincial secretary, but failed, and still it is said the government is not detected. Suppose, for the sake of argument, that this did not amount to defeat—but it is submitted that it is absolute evidence of it in all reason the government should have obeyed the warrant of the Speaker and brought on the Victoria election, but it has not been done. Then what about the two vacant portfolios? These remain unfilled, and it is potent to all that no one will accept of them. It can be well remembered and rightly how the Colonel declined against Mr. Cotton holding two portfolios (although it was admitted upon all sides that Mr. Cotton was a most capable man in the administration of the office), but it is all right now for two ministers in the present cabinet to administer two departments each, i. e., Mr. Eberts, attorney general and minister of mines, and agriculture, provincial secretary and minister of education.

Students of political history and constitutional procedure know full well the effect of the late political happenings. It is well remembered how governments have gone out of office when even a departmental matter was found fault with, and Mr. Gladstone changed the rule that a government was entitled to meet the House to determine where it stood. The cardinal rule now is, that a government must retire when it cannot demonstrate that it has the con-ed were the centres. He is a highly educated man, being a fluent linguist and with an extensive knowledge of French and German particularly.

He was appointed by the Dominion government to represent British Columbia in mining matters at the two expositions mentioned, and won frequent commendation for his work. Indeed the success of the mining exhibit at these two points was attributed very largely to him.

Berlin, Oct. 12.—Prominent men of science from all parts of the world assembled here to-day to join in the celebration of the eightieth birthday of Prof. Virchow. The newspapers this morning devote columns to his eulogy, reviews of his life, instances of his remarkable vitality and incessant work, referring to the fact that he only allows himself four or five hours sleep daily.

law tending to the limitation and protection of the liquor traffic." "That we request our secretary to write to civic and municipal councils of this province, asking them to pass by-laws prohibiting expectation on the public sidewalks, from the standpoint of the public health."

WHEN THE GOVERNMENT WAS DEFEATED

To the Editor:—The Colonist asks me to state when the government was defeated. I say that it was signally defeated at New Westminster when the then provincial secretary was defeated. It is only necessary to consider the true position of affairs and this is apparent. The government undertook to embark on a course that was not agreed to by one of the cabinet. A gentleman was called in who, until then, was a member of the opposition (and a leading member of it) to succeed the retiring minister, Mr. Turner. This course of procedure was an extraordinary that naturally at once there was disaffection in the government ranks, and the election of the new minister was opposed. The government, by the use of every possible agency, even to the extent of sending down the minister of lands and works, who cautioned the electorate that the defeat of Brown fidence of the electorate, and when its followers have left it in such numbers that it cannot carry on. It is idle to contend otherwise, and the constitution and constitutional procedure is not so frail that this position cannot be forced upon a government.

MR. TURNER'S ASSISTANT

A. K. Stuart Will Enter the Agent-General's Office in London.

From a well-informed correspondent the Times learns that the post of assistant to the Agent-General of British Columbia in London is to be filled by the appointment of A. K. Stuart, formerly of Greenwood, and recently in charge of the mining exhibit of British Columbia at the Paris and Glasgow exhibitions. It is understood that the appointment is only a temporary one, being made until Hon. Mr. Turner has an opportunity to study the needs of the office more closely.

The appointment of Mr. Stuart will be a popular one in this province, where he has so long had his home. He lived for some time in Greenwood and also conducted the Vernon News and the Midway Advance, being a pioneer in the two valleys of which the towns mention-his right hand. The temptation came upon me to grip that hairy throat and choke the life from him, who stood between me and liberty, but my better judgment prevailed, for I knew that in the scuffle the other guards in the house might be warned, and then it would be all up with me. I stepped across the floor with only my socks on and my boots in my hand.

I reached the window, glanced around to see that the guard is still sleeping. Yes, it is all right. I opened the window carefully, and a few spatters of rain fell upon me. I opened it to its full extent, and the window squeaked on its rusty hinges. To my acute senses it is loud enough to wake the dead. I glanced again at the guard, and he moved. I was

if he opened his eyes, for liberty was now dearer than ever, and death seemed easier than captivity; but no, it was only a restless movement on his part, he was soon sleeping peacefully again, probably dreaming of his frow and children, his homestead and the happy times that would be again after the war was over and the Boerboes driven out of their country. Now was my time. With a firm grip on the sill I put myself out of the window first, I wriggled through like a snake, and presently my feet touched the ground. I sank up to my thighs in soft mud, and leaning my head and shoulders were forced through. At last I "dew de coop." I stood in the drenching rain for a minute listening, but everything was as quiet as the grave. Knowing my guard might wake up at any moment and give the alarm, I intended to hustle. Slipping on my boots over my muddy socks I stepped out and picked my way along past the outhouses. Knowing the position of their laager and about where their sentries were posted I did not have any fear of getting past them all right on such a night.

After I had been sneaking along for about an hour I knew I was safe for the time being, as I was beyond their sentries. Now to get a horse, saddle and bridle. After tramping across the veldt in the rain and pitch dark, except for an occasional flash of lightning, I

Arrived at the Kraal

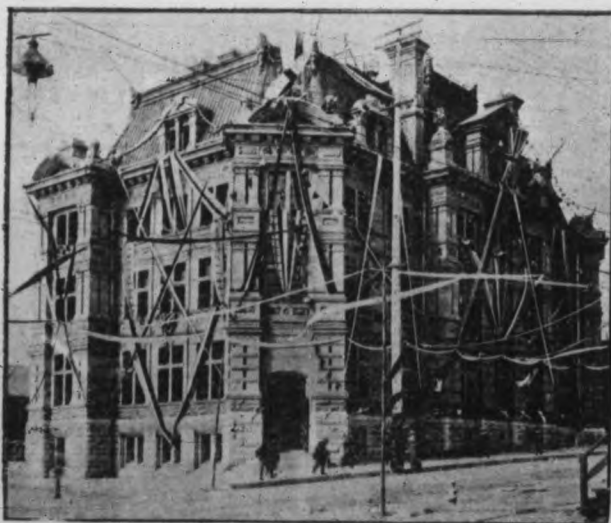

I was making for just as day was breaking. The rain had now stopped, and it had every appearance of being a fine day. As I approached the kraal a whole host of Kaffir mongrels came yelping at me, and presently a Kaffir boy came out to see what all the racket was about. I told him I wanted to see his husband. He shortly made his appearance, but he did not know me at first. He was a native who had been working for me years before when I had first started prospecting, and I knew he was a native I could trust. After explaining to him who I was and what I wanted he could not do enough for me. He made his frow build a big fire just outside the hut and make hot coffee, and while I sat down by the fire and dried my clothes and drank hot black coffee, he went off to the kraal to get me a horse. It was not long before he was back with a decent mount, and getting an old saddle and bridle from his hut he very soon had it saddled and bridled, and knowing my escape was far from effected, I determined to push on without any loss of time, so I mounted and struck off across the veldt at a stiff canter in a southerly direction.

Oh, the exquisite joy of feeling at liberty once more and a good horse beneath me. Words simply fail to express it. After half an hour of stiff riding, I struck the railway line at Content about forty miles north of Kimberley. On my left three miles away was a ridge of kopjes and about fourteen miles long, running parallel with

on my right also was a ridge of kopjes also about three miles off, and running parallel with my route for about seven miles and then branching off west towards the Vaal river. On each of these ridges was a patrol of about thirty Boers there day and night watching for the advance of the English, and knowing they would be advised of my escape and on the look-out for me, it was necessary I should use all the Boer craft I possessed to pass them in safety. About half way between the two ridges of kopjes was a deep slough, dry in the dry season, but full and rushing with the roar and speed of a torrent after heavy rains and well sheltered with camel thorn trees and vial bush and running parallel with the kopjes for about ten miles. I gained this gully in safety, and keeping well in the shelter it afforded, I proceeded as fast as I possibly could south towards Kimberley. Owing to the nature of the ground, the gullies and the camel thorns I had to pass through, my progress was naturally slow, but I arrived at the end of the cover at last, and then came the time to make a dash across the open veldt past the remaining four miles of kopjes patrolled by the Boers, then on to Riverton and Kimberley. After giving my horse an hour's rest and looking well to my girths, I mounted and set off at a sharp canter and keeping a sharp lookout meanwhile for the Boer patrol, I had just about reached the end of the ridge of kopjes when I saw some horsemen coming down the end of the kopje on my left about three miles away. Not waiting to make their acquaintance I let my horse out and then came

THE ROYAL VISIT-POST OFFICE DECORATED.

A Ride for Life or Death.

So half an hour they had gained about a mile on me and by the end of an hour they were within a mile of me, and I carried me into Kimberley, and Kimberley was now only about eight miles off. Taking off the saddle and bridle and letting the horse loose to go back to his kraal at his leisure, I proceeded to Kimberley on foot. Without further adventure, and feeling completely done up, I arrived in Kimberley about 4 o'clock on March 3rd, and after enjoying the luxury of a bath, a change of clothes and a couple of stiff drinks of tanglefoot (the only drink obtainable in Kimberley at that time) I felt a new man. I then proceeded to the commandant's office and made my report.

The following day I was attached to the W. scouts and sent off to the Free State, he gallant Fighting Fifth had left a couple of days before for the Free State. We arrived in Boshof on the 5th, and then it was continually Scouting, Patrolling and Skirmishing for about three weeks. We had a couple of good brushes with the Boers at Swartz Kop and around Boshof. Then Methuen and his force arrived and we were sent to Warrenton and attached to the Dublin Fusiliers. While there we were out scouting day and night. We had ten miles of the river on each side of the village to patrol, watching for the Boers crossing the drifts from Fourteen Streams, and continually having skirmishes with small Boer patrols. After a month of that we were sent into Kimberley, where we arrived late on May 1st. The following morning we were off with the flying column to the relief of Mafeking.

It is needless after this lapse of time to describe our forced march and our successful relief under Colonel Mahon. After leaving Barkley we were put on half rations and were kept in the saddle on an average of eighteen hours out of every twenty-four. We had two lively engagements on the road up, one at Nereet and one just before getting into Mafeking, one lasting about five hours and the other about seven, in which we repulsed the Boers with heavy losses on both occasions, our losses being very slight.

We arrived in Mafeking on the morning of the 15th at 4 a. m., a hungry and ragged looking lot, some without hats, some without tunics, some without gaiters, and many with only their riding breeches, shirts and boots. The same day about 10 o'clock, we had a general review before B. P. through the market square. We were stationed there three weeks to garrison the town until Hunter arrived with the relief food stuffs. He was coming up by the railway repeating the line as he advanced. After our arrival in Mafeking we were kept on quarter rations and on the horse lines, like sheep from the effects of the forced march and the want were paying fifteen shillings for a pound of sugar, ten shillings for a half dozen of eggs, fifteen shillings for a pound of butter and five shillings for a pound of mutton or Kaffir-corn, when you could get it, sleeping out in the open veldt, in rain and frosty nights, with only one blanket for covering, and a saddle for a pillow. The horses that were dying on the horse lines were sent over every morning to the soup kitchen in Mafeking and we used to think it a treat to clasp together and go over to the soup kitchen and buy a few pounds of horse sausage meat, fry it in our mess-tins and have a couple of small hot cookies with it washed down with a pint of black and unsweetened coffee. One day when we burg to join Hunter, which place we left in the early part of June. As our march with Hunter into the Transvaal is now well known it is now unnecessary for me to describe it, sufficient to say we were continually having brushes and skirmishes with the Boers. About this time the Free State was

by small commands of Boers and rebels, and we were ordered off to the scene of action just before sunset, and during the night the Boers evacuated their position and left our men masters of the situation.

I was then sent with a convoy of wounded to Mafeking, where we arrived after much suffering from the jolting of the wagons, and I was sent down with the first hospital train to the military hospital at Kimberley. It was six weeks before I was able to limp about, and I was then sent to Capetown for a month's furlough. On my arrival back in Kimberley in September I took my discharge, to look after my own interest for a while on the river diggings, and to thoroughly recuperate. After spending a couple of months around about the diamond fields and river diggings I made up my mind to take a trip home and see mother and Canada once again. I left Kimberley on November 25th, and after a rapid and delightful passage I arrived in Montreal on Christmas eve.

could not get any horse flesh we went around the town looking for a dog, and although we hunted highways and byways such an animal as a dog was not to be seen, and on inquiring of a resident why no dogs were to be seen about the streets he replied: "Dogs, why the last one disappeared from this town about two months ago, and the only dogs in Mafeking now are a couple of pet poodles, and they are kept chained up for safety."

On May 23rd we were ordered to Vydisturbance. We kept well on the western border, and at Swartz Kop joined a detachment of light horse and yeomanry, and on reaching Swart-kopje we were informed a large command of Boers were in our close vicinity. We engaged the enemy about 2 o'clock, and we had a lively fight until sunset. They held a good position in two kopjes, and the roar and din of volleys of musketry and artillery and pom-poms were simply deafening for a couple of hours. I was wounded, and put out of
